

HOW A SERVICE DOG CAN HELP WITH YOUR OXYGEN NEEDS

SERVICE DOG— oh, YEAH

You will not believe how a dog can help you live and thrive. This is a working partner that will make your life so much better.

◆ What can it do?

Let you know when your canula is out of your nose
Let you know when your battery is low
Let you know when your machine has turned off
Let you know when you need to stop and rest

How does he know this?

He just does – when a dog bonds with you he is sensitive to your smells and sounds. He will become sensitive to the sounds your machines make also.

Does he need to be trained?

It depends on your disability. Any trainer can help with special needs.

Where can I take him?

Anywhere you can go, so can your service dog. It is important that you watch the dog to learn his signals for your issues. Once you recognize that, it is smooth sailing.

◆ Does he need anything special?

Yes – he will need to be dressed to go into public access places.
He will need a vest, identifying patches as a Medical Assist Dog and a custom ID card. Your service dog trainer will address those needs with you.
